

Responsible Research of Deep-Sea Hydrothermal Vents

6) Facilitate the fullest possible use of all biological, chemical and geological samples collected through collaborations and cooperation amongst the global community of scientists.

This talk will explain the voluntary Statement of Responsible Research as adopted by the InterRidge program and discuss issues concerning responsible research of deep-sea hydrothermal vents and their ecosystems.