

Thus, the Rules specifically contemplate that other States shall have the opportunity to comment on the "data created in the executive process" that the Commission would have