

Statement of H.E. Archbishop Bernardito Auza
Permanent Observer of the Holy See to the United Nations policies and subtle forms of coercion that do not respect the value systems of peoples and societies.

Madame Chair,

In developing countries where populations are growing, economies are often adoption of policies and programs that stimulate employment and growth