PERMANENT MISSION OF DENMARK TO THE UNITED NATIONS

	an Excellences_Distinonished Delegates ₽ 1.00
While I am	addressing you – somewhere in the world a very poor young girl gives birth to a  	Million was the management of
	_
	·
	is lucky enough to go to school it will probably mean she will have to drop-out – entre her fr	iends and future behind her. If she dreamt of baving an education beyond namaty.
	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, or even die	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or or even die if it survive	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life or even die if it survive – giving bit	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or or even die if it survive – giving bii her life.	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child — is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in or even die if it survive – giving bit her life. Every year	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child – is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in this is the reality of 16 million young girls. A staggering number – meaning that this
or even die If it survive – giving bit her life. Every year	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child — is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in
or even die if it survive – giving bit her life. Every year	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child – is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in this is the reality of 16 million young girls. A staggering number – meaning that this
or even die If it survive – giving bit her life. Every year	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child – is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in this is the reality of 16 million young girls. A staggering number – meaning that this or even die f it survive – giving bir her life. Every year	dreams will most likely never come through. She has a high risk of becoming sick, while given birth, and her child has a high risk of never reaching the age of five; or s of being stunted. What should have been one of the happiest moments of her life th to a child – is also one of the most difficult, perhaps even desperate moments in this is the reality of 16 million young girls. A staggering number – meaning that this to viable solutions, ensuring a green and sustainable future. An agenda for sustainable development that does not include the population dimension is doomed to fail. We all know the sad facts: Complications from pregnancy continue to be the leading cause of mantelity among adalaseast side and 15 10 is developing countries. Every year ground the

Likewise, we believe that special attention needs to be given to securing the rights of youth and adolescents in conflict-affected and fragile settings. Sexual and reproductive health and rights often suffer neglect in these situation, at the expense of the most vulnerable groups -young girls in particular, who also often fall victims to gender-based violence. Denmark has recently humanitarian field in the new Danish Humanitarian Strategy 2010-2015. In partnerships with UNFPA and UNICEF we strive to ensure the protection of both women and youth in conflict and long-lasting crises - often an important gap in the humanitarian efforts. The priority given to sexual and reproductive health and rights is embedded in the rights concept. Denmark looks forwards the road ahead - paved with both challenges and promises including the preparations for the twenty-year anniversary of the ICPD Programme of Action in 2014, including the important review of the current state of implementation. The ICPD+20 will also be an important stepping stone towards the formulation of new post-2015 objectives.