

Under paragraph 3 of the note on article 3 of the Act of the Azerbaijani Republic on extradition, when extradition is refused in cases which come under articles 3.1.1 (if the requested person is a citizen of the Azerbaijani Republic at the time when the issue of his or her extradition is being resolved) or 3.2.1 (if under the law of the requesting foreign State, the crime which is the basis for extradition is a capital offence) of the Act, in accordance with the motion of the requesting State the person in question may be criminally prosecuted under the law of the Azerbaijani Republic.

Under article 75.5 of the Criminal Code of the Azerbaijani Republic, the statute of limitations for criminal prosecution does not apply to persons who have committed crimes against peace and humanity, terrorism, financing of terrorism and war crimes covered under the relevant articles of the Special Section of the Criminal Code.

The reference in article 75.5 to the non-application of a statute of limitations to the criminal prosecution of persons who have committed crimes against peace and humanity, terrorism, financing of terrorism and war crimes derives from the requirements of the Convention on the Non-Applicability of Statutory Limitations to
