

10. The Programme of Assistance is important to our fundamental quest in instilling the rule of law in international relations. The Programme promotes and educates people from all across the globe