

- OLA aims, first, to provide a unified central legal service for the Secretariat and the principal organs and other bodies of the United Nations on both multinational and transnational issues, as well as on international law.

