Profes

(checkagainst delivery)

M: Chair;

I take this apporturity to thank a contribution to the codification and report on its 71st Session Brazil or the international lawsystem and to like to recognize the important work Affairs for their important support to

Before addressing the first cluster of the Commission had since 1948, or of women that participated in the S recall that Bertha Lutz, a women n en

Commission and Member States, as they contribute to results that tend to be more accepted and applied when concluded

Brazil velcomes the adoption, on first reading of 23 draft conclusions and the draft armex. The successful adoption of the draft conclusions demonstrates that progress can be made even in particularly complicated and sensitive subjects, as recognized by the Commission itself. While we look forward to submitting curfull comments and observations in writing we would like to make some brief remails about three issues: i) the non-exhaustive list of norms; ii) the method for Brazil velocities the inclusion of the topic on reparations for gross violations of IHRL and IHL. It is a timely debate not only because of the widespread but not systematic practice on the issue, but also due to its close linkages to the Commissionis work in other topics, such as and general principles of law. We believe that the ILC can make a positive contribution to harmonize some standards and practices on reparations, while taking into due regard the distinctive objectives, principles and mandates that inspire the different regimes dealing with reparations for serious violations of IHRL and IHL.

Brazil also takes note with interest of the ILC decision to include in its Long TermProgramme of Work the topic "prevention and repression of piracy and armed robbery at sea! As indicated in the report, there are already global and regional treaties and other instruments dealing with the topic, and we coincide with the Commissionis view that any eventual work on the matter would not seek to alter UNCLOS provisions.

Among the topics that were already inscribed in the Long TermProgramme of Work, Brazil would favor that the Commission include "extratemitorial jurisdiction" in its active agenda.

Thankyou, Mr. Chair.