

Second drafting session on Financing for Development Session on "International Public Finance"

Statement by the Organisation for Economicoperation and Development (OECD)

Wednesday 15 April 2015 New York

Cofacilitators,

The OECD welcombine importance accorded in the zero draft to official development ass@@Acc (which is and will remain a crucial source of finance, particularly for very poor, vulnerable and fragile countries. In 2014, net ODA flows were USD 135.2 billion, matching this halb f 2013, though with a slight decline in real terms and involved the poorest countries. DACi Misters have reaffirmed their commitment to reversing this decline.

The OECD will continue to hold its member states to account in meeting theim@ftAhents

Although we support the wording in paragraphw56ld further add that the text should include reference to efforts by the OECD Development Assistance Committee (DAC) to foster accountability on commitm individually through the OECD DAC Peer Review process and colleatively devices eniLevel Meetings.

Wewelcomethe wording in paragraphy bith references thecision in December 2014 by OECD DAC Ministers who reaffirmed their commitments toward, a bat in particular to allocate more of total ODA countries most in need, including least developed countries but conflict affected states. DAC Ministers also took decisions leading to Obverset concessional terms to Cs, other LICs and LMICs They also committed to use Obverset way in all developing countries

Furthermore, in paragraph/e5&elcomethe call for anopen, inclusive and transparent dialogue on the proposed TOSSD measure/hich aims tensure, intheirchateonce duragessurere resources softer terms to the poorest countries, while putting in place safeguards to ensure debt sustainability.
