ECOSOC dialogue with the BWIs, WTO and UNCTAD addresses challenges of economic growth, job creation and sustainable development

Overview

The 2012 Special high-level meeting of ECOSOC with the BWIs, WTO and UNCTAD featured a productive dialogue between UN delegates and senior o cials from major institutional stakeholders, as well as representatives of civil society and the business sector. A signi cant number Executive and Alternate Directors of the Boards of the World Bank (22) an IMF (5) as well as senior managers of those institutions, including two Vic Presidents of the World Bank, participated in the discussion and express strong interest in promoting closer relations with ECOSOC. e special signi cance of this year's meeting was that it was held in the run up to the two major UN conferences on development issues, namely, UNCTAD XIII and Rio+20.

e Council had before it a note by the Secretary-Gen2(r)10/W4.pan 9.V

catalyze a more equitable, resilient, low-carbon economy Overall, the legitimacy of the United Nations confers in comparable value to its discussions, negotiated agreemen and operational activities.

e President of the Trade and Development Board of UNCTAD, H.E. Mr. Anthony Mothae Maruping (Lesotho) highlighted that the e ects of the nancial and economic crisis continued to have an adverse impact or developing countries, especially LDCs. He called for bold, coordinated and coherent approaches to address the globa nancial and economic problems. Monetary, exchange rate, scal and incomes policy instruments should-be ap plied with the right mix, timing, dosage and in a coherent manner. All forms of nancing for developing countries, namely, ODA, FDI, sovereign debt management,-remit tances and domestic resources should be brought into pla Aid for Trade, in particular, should be intensi ed. UNC TAD XIII will address the theme: "Development-centered globalization: Towards inclusive and sustainable growth and development".

e Vice President and Secretary of the Board of the World Bank, Mr. Jorge Familiar Calderonspeak ing in his capacity as Acting Secretary of the Development Committee, noted the importance of enhancing the coop eration with ECOSOC towards achieving greater cohesion Mr. Shishir Priyadarshi, Director of the Develop ment Division in the WTO, highlighted that the current meeting could make a contribution to the elaboration of the post-2015 global development agenda. at agenda must include sustainable, inclusive and equitable economic growth as one of its key elements. According to the speaker, trade remained one of the most important engines of na tional, regional and global growth. However, coordinated action was needed to prevent protectionism and- to ad dress the structural problems underpinning the persistent unemployment, static growth and unstable nancial mar kets. e international community must come together to ensure that all countries, including the weaker develop tance. Global value chains meant that countries would in ematic debate on "Financing of sustainable development" ere were calls for a practical agreement that would allow for forward-looking emphasis on action. Moreover, speakers highlighted that Rio+20 should deliver a discreet set of sustainable development goals, including sanitation, water and biodiversity indicators, which could foster the transition to sustainable growth.

e mobilization of new, additional, stable and -pre dictable nancial resources to support implementation ac