

Micro, small and medium scale enterprises (MSMEs) make up the bulk of the private sector in SIDS. Such businesses are particularly vulnerable to shocks, especially those operating informally without access to recovery programmes or insurance.

A robust policy framework is fundamental for fostering an enabling business environment that supports sustainable business practices and ensures long-term economic stability. When such policies are set in place, it is equally important to help businesses take full advantage of the opportunities they have. It is

