

unemployment, income generation, and the role of the private sector – there is the proportion this of which we know that will require co

I can tell you that 2009 will be another difficult or challenging year. First of all, the preparation of the Secretary-General's report on peacebuilding and early recovery in the early part of this year is very important. This occasion will test the ability to make substantial inputs to impi#I-Đ