

Thousands converge on UN Headquarters to examine progress since historic women's conference; Secretary-General opens event for International Women's Day, 3 March

New York, 1 March 2010 – UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon will call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

The Secretary-General will also call for a global day of action on 3 March to mark the 15th anniversary of the adoption of the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action, the landmark 1995 women's conference. The Secretary-General will also open the event for International Women's Day, 3 March.

PRESS CONTACTS:

Chief of Staff: +1-917-367-9378, maria.cano@un.org

Public Relations: +1-917-349-4198, maria.faloutsos@un.org

FOR ADDITIONAL PRESS MATERIALS, VISIT: http://www.un.org/News/Press/docs/2010/03/100315_women.shtml

FOR UN PRESS ACCREDITATION, VISIT: http://www.un.org/News/Press/docs/2010/03/100315_women.shtml

For more information, visit http://www.un.org/News/Press/docs/2010/03/100315_women.shtml