Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am pleased to participate in this important discussion on the role of women in the development of the Americas. I am particularly interested in the role of women in the economic and social development of the region.

Women are subject to multiple or accumulated forms of discrimination, including those based on race, class, and indigenous or migrant women.

President of Chile, Mr. Aylwin, has made significant contributions to the promotion of women's rights. We are confident that the new government will continue to support the United Nations work plan.
